

A Talking about films and books

When a new book or film comes out, newspapers and websites, like BookLikes and IMDb, will review it. The people who review the book/film are called book reviewers / film critics and they write book/film reviews. If they don't like a book/film they give it a bad review. We can say that a novel or film is based on a true story. We say that a book/film captures an atmosphere or that a book/film deals with a topic. We talk about the opening/closing scenes of a film and the opening/closing chapters of a book. We talk about the beginning and end of a book/film (NOT start and finish). If everything works out well for the central characters, we say that the book/film has a happy ending. You may recommend a book/film that you enjoyed to a friend. If a lot of people have enjoyed it, it is highly recommended.

B Just about films and acting

I've never had any desire to go on the stage¹ myself but I'd love to produce a film. I think historical dramas work particularly well on the big screen² and I'd love to make a film about Vikings in Britain. There'd be plenty of opportunities to use special effects³ during battle scenes. I'd want the male lead⁴ to be played by Hugh Jackman, while Jennifer Lawrence could have the female lead. Liam Neeson could play the role of a Viking warrior and I'd like Judi Dench to take on a cameo role⁵. I'm sure that, as always, she would give an excellent performance. My dream is to make a film that would be nominated for an Oscar⁶. Of course, I'd also like it to be an immediate box-office hit⁷, playing to full houses⁸ worldwide.

Other strong collocations are cast a film [select the actors for a film], star in a film, shoot a film, make a film.

Common mistakes

Critics review books and films, NOT criticise them. To criticise a book or film means to say negative things about it.

Remember that you watch television, NOT see television, but you can see or watch a film or programme on television. We usually say see a film at the cinema.

The conversation has no errors, but the changes will improve it.

- Matthew: Have you downloaded that new e-book that has just appeared about Ireland?
- Camilla: No, I don't use my e-book reader app much and I don't visit websites with articles discussing new books. What's it about?
- Matthew: Well, it concerns the Irish War of Independence. It's very authentic and it manages to give the atmosphere of Ireland at the beginning of the 20th century.
- Camilla: Is it just historical facts, then?
- Matthew: No, the main people are two brothers who have different opinions about the war and this divides their family. In the first chapters they're happy and do everything together, but by the last chapter they have become enemies.
- Camilla: Mm, it sounds a bit depressing to me.
- Matthew: Well, it certainly doesn't finish in a happy way, but I liked it, and it's recommended very much by all the critics.
- Camilla: So, a book with a pleasant start and a sad finish. Not for me, I'm afraid. I prefer the opposite.
